Marisa and Jaylen's Skateboarding Day

Read the short story and answer the questions

Marisa and Jaylen were siblings who loved to skateboard. They spent hours practicing tricks and jumping off ramps in their backyard. One sunny afternoon, their parents took them to the local skate park.

The skate park was a huge concrete playground with ramps, rails, and bowls of all shapes and sizes. There were other kids there too, skateboarding and doing tricks. Marisa and Jaylen were excited to try out the new equipment.

Marisa was a skilled skateboarder. She could do all kinds of tricks, from ollies to kickflips. Jaylen was still learning, but he was improving every day.

They spent the afternoon skateboarding and having fun. They met some new friends and learned some new tricks. They also watched some of the older kids do amazing things on their skateboards.

When they were tired, Marisa and Jaylen decided to go get some pizza. They walked to a nearby pizza place and ordered their favorite toppings. They sat outside and enjoyed their pizza while watching the people go by.

After they finished eating, Marisa and Jaylen went back to the skate park. They skated for a while longer before heading home. They were tired but happy. They had had a great day skateboarding at the park.
