Lindsay and Maria's Summer Camp

Read the short story and answer the questions

Lindsay and Maria were best friends who loved spending time together. One summer, their parents decided to send them to a summer camp. They were both excited and nervous about the experience.

When they arrived at the camp, they were greeted by a friendly camp counselor. The counselor showed them their cabin and introduced them to their new roommates. Lindsay and Maria were a little nervous about meeting new people, but they quickly made friends.

The first day of camp, Lindsay and Maria went on a hike through the woods. They saw many different animals, including deer, squirrels, and birds. They also learned about the different types of trees and plants that grew in the forest.

In the afternoon, Lindsay and Maria went fishing in the lake. They caught a few small fish, but they were mostly just happy to be outside and enjoying the fresh air.

At night, Lindsay and Maria sat by the campfire and roasted marshmallows. They told stories and laughed together. They loved the feeling of the fire warming them on a cool summer night.

The next day, Lindsay and Maria went swimming in the lake. They loved to jump off the diving board and swim races. They also played games like Marco Polo and tag in the water.

After swimming, they went canoeing on the lake. They paddled around the lake and enjoyed the beautiful scenery.

On the last day of camp, Lindsay and Maria were sad to leave. They had made so many new friends and had so much fun. But they knew that they would never forget their summer camp experience.
