Lizzie and Tyler's Snowy Adventure

Read the short story and answer the questions

Lizzie and Tyler were best friends who lived in a small town covered in snow. They loved playing in the snow, building snowmen, and having snowball fights. When a big snowstorm hit their town, they were thrilled.

The next morning, they woke up to a winter wonderland. The snow was piled high, and everything was covered in a blanket of white. Their school was closed for the day, so they could spend the whole day playing in the snow.

Lizzie and Tyler bundled up and went outside. They started by building a giant snowman. They rolled two big snowballs for the body, a smaller one for the head, and used sticks and carrots for the eyes, nose, and mouth.

After they finished building the snowman, they decided to go sledding down the hill behind their house. They grabbed their sleds and slid down the hill over and over again. It was so much fun!

When they were tired of sledding, they went inside to warm up. Lizzie's mom made them hot chocolate and cookies. They sat by the window and watched the snow fall.

In the afternoon, Lizzie and Tyler decided to build a snow fort. They shoveled the snow into a big pile and shaped it into a fort. They made a small door and a window.

They played inside the fort for a while, pretending they were explorers in a snowy land. Then, they had a snowball fight. They threw snowballs at each other until they were both covered in snow.

When it was time for dinner, Lizzie and Tyler went inside and took a warm bath. They were tired but happy. They had had a wonderful day playing in the snow.
