Jessica and Lauren's First Day of School

Read the short story and answer the questions

Jessica and Lauren were best friends. They had known each other since kindergarten and were always excited to start a new school year together. This year, they were starting third grade at a new school.

On the first day of school, Jessica and Lauren were a little nervous. They didn't know any of the other students yet. But as soon as they walked into their classroom, they started to feel more at ease. The teacher, Mrs. Miller, was very friendly and welcoming.

Jessica and Lauren sat together in class. They learned about math, reading, writing, and science. They also had art, music, and physical education.

After school, Jessica and Lauren decided to try out for the soccer team. They loved to play soccer and were excited to see if they could make the team. The tryouts were tough, but Jessica and Lauren gave it their all.

A few days later, the coach posted the team roster. To their delight, both Jessica and Lauren had made the team. They were so excited to play soccer with their new friends.

As the school year progressed, Jessica and Lauren made many new friends. They joined the school choir and the drama club. They also participated in various school events, such as the field trip to the zoo and the school talent show. Jessica and Lauren were happy and successful in third grade. They were looking forward to starting fourth grade and making even more memories together.
